

Radical Reference:

Effecting Change at Your Library and in your Activist Life

with Speaker
Jenna Freedman

Jenna Freedman is a zine librarian and librarian zinester. She is the Coordinator of Reference Services at Barnard College in NYC and a member of Radical Reference, a collective of library workers that meets the research needs of activists and independent journalists. She has published articles on zine librarianship and presented around the United States on that topic as well as on other themes of library activism. She is the 2007 winner of the Elizabeth Futas Catalyst for Change Award and a 2003 Library Journal Mover & Shaker.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9TH 6 P.M.
ROOM 610